

WHAT'S YOUR POSITION?

BENNETT TAB POSITION INDICATOR | $199

With greater attention placed on function and appearance for 2005, the Bennett Tab Position Indicator is not only easy to use, it's also easy on the eyes.

The new TPI unit displays the deflection of the trim tabs through a stylish smoked-glass face. As power is added, the face increasingly illuminates, making the unit easy to read.

In addition to aesthetics, ease of installation was a top priority for the new design. Once the sensors are attached to the actuators, a screwdriver is all that is needed for installation.

The Bennett Tab Position Indicator comes with a three-year warranty and is available at your local marine dealer and retail stores.

WE'VE GOT OURSELVES A WINNER

PERFORMANCE METALS ANODE | STARTING AT $5

Recipient of a 2004 NMMA Innovation Award, the wear indicator anode by Performance Metals is a definite winner.

To prevent corrosion, the aluminum anode is embedded with a bright plastic indicator to alert boat owners when it's time to change it. Once the indicator is visible, replacement is required.

The aluminum indicator lasts up to 50 percent longer than zinc and provides better protection. Safe for both salt and fresh water, the aluminum indicator is also non-polluting.

Anode kits are available for stern drives, hulls, trim tabs, rudders and shafts and each comes with all the necessary hardware for installation.

UNDER COVER

SUNSTREAM BOAT LIFTS HOVERCOVER | $3,059

Spend more time cruising in your boat and less time cleaning it with the HoverCover by Sunstream Boat Lifts.

When mooring your boat, the HoverCover provides shelter to reduce the amount of dirt and debris that end up on deck. Once activated, the vessel is lifted out of the salt water as the cover lowers, leaving little room for dirt to settle on your boat.

When you're ready to use your boat, the HoverCover, used in conjunction with the hydraulic FloatLift, will rise as the boat lowers to make boarding easy. To operate, use the system's key-chain remote control.

The first and only of its kind, the HoverCover uses solar power on an A/C charge.
